WORLD MISSION HIGH SCHOOL
Software Development/ Networking and Internet Technology/
Multimedia Production

P.O Box: 5856 Kigali-Rwanda Tel: 0785623245-0788411064
Email: worldmission779@gmail.com Website:
www.worldmissionhighschool.org

SCRIPT WRITING HOMEWORK /20MARKS

1. Explain what story conflict is and why it is considered a fundamental element of storytelling.
2. Describe how film conflict drives a movie's narrative and keeps the audience engaged.
3. Explain why conflict must be resolved for a story to reach its conclusion.
4. Describe the steps involved in the creation of story conflict, starting from identifying the protagonist to resolution.
5. Explain any three types of conflict, such as conflict with others, society, nature, fate/God, or technology, using examples.
6. Discuss the difference between flat conflict, dynamic conflict, and complex conflict.
7. Define a story logline and explain its purpose in storytelling.
8. Describe the key characteristics of a good logline.
9. Explain the main elements of a logline, including protagonist, conflict, antagonist, and stakes.
10. Discuss the techniques used to write an effective logline and why keeping it short and focused is important.