Visual Effects

1. Can you pinpoint specific scenes or moments where visual effects were prominently used? Describe their impact on the overall storytelling and immersion.
2. How effectively were the visual effects integrated into the storyline? Did they enhance or detract from the realism or engagement of the film?
3. Identify scenes where lighting played a significant role in establishing mood or atmosphere. How did lighting choices contribute to the emotional tone of those scenes?
4. Were there instances where lighting was used symbolically or metaphorically? Explain how lighting choices conveyed deeper meanings or themes.

Script Setup

1. Evaluate the initial scenes in terms of how effectively they introduced the main characters and the world they inhabit. Did the setup immediately engage the audience?
2. How efficiently was the main conflict or goal established in the beginning? Did the script effectively lay out the foundation for the story's progression?

Conflict Progression

1. Identify key moments where tension and conflict escalated. How were these progressions built up, and did they effectively maintain the audience's interest?
2. How did the main characters respond to the escalating conflict or challenges? Analyze how their actions and decisions contributed to the story's development.

Subplot

1. Identify any subplots within the film. How were these subplots interwoven with the main storyline? Did they add depth to the overall narrative?
2. Evaluate the significance of the subplot(s) in influencing or enhancing the main story. Did they contribute to character development or thematic exploration?

Personal Observation

1. How would you rate the film out of 10?
